cattle and there has been no trouble should the quarantine restrictions."

"Copper and Reforms.

"Arizona is going to be heard from in the convention line before lone," said Harry Powder, a rancher of the San Simon valley. "The average person thinks all the state produces is copper and reforms. It produces is copper and reforms. It produces plenty of those too, but cattle is right along in the front rank. Arizons will not try to get the convention tols year. Amarillo and Albuquerque need not worry, but about 1917 look out for the best state in the west."

"When we boost for Amarillo don't think that we do not appreciate El Paso's hospitality," said C. R. Reed, of Amarillo. "There is no city in the southwest that could be a hetter bost to cattlemen or anyone else than all Paso. We are enjoying every minute we spend here."

"Albuquerque is the next convention city, no doubt about it," said ex-governor George Curry, of New Mexico. "The legislature has passed a resolution inviting the cattlemen to come to Albuquerque and backed it up by sending a
